

Directional Bingo

Game Instructions

Intended Use: Beginning Group Piano Classes

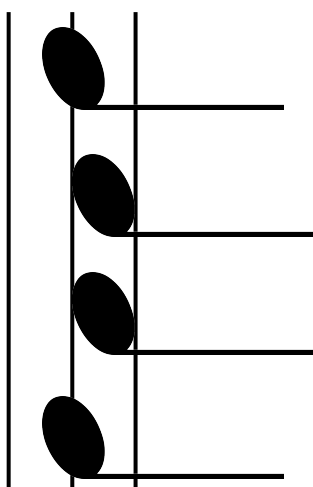

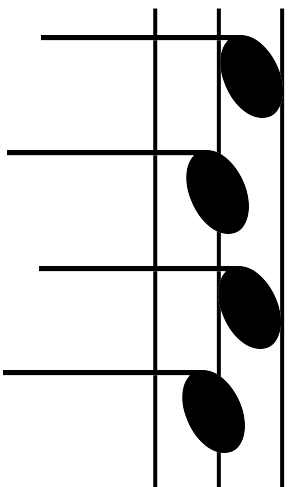

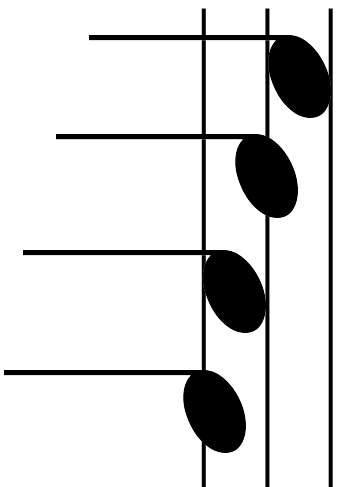

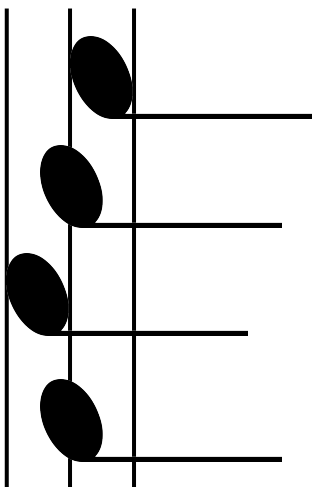

Number of Players: Up to 5

Set-up: Give each student one Rhythm Bingo game page. You will also need some sort of tokens to cover the squares, craft gems or any small objects will work. If pages are laminated, students could mark off squares with a dry erase marker. Small draw cards should be cut out and stacked in a draw pile.

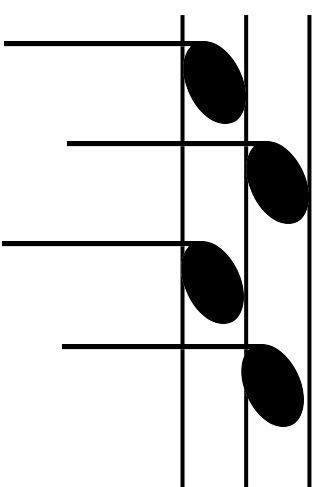

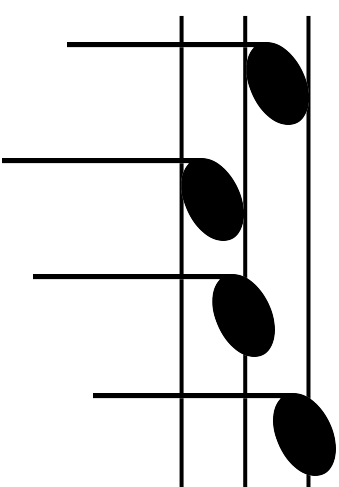

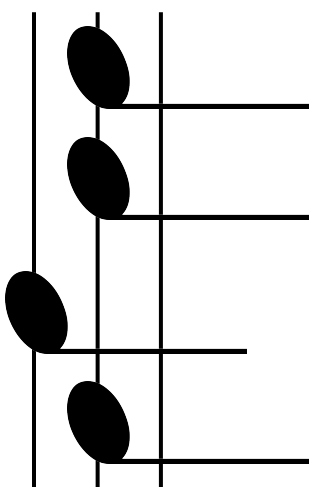

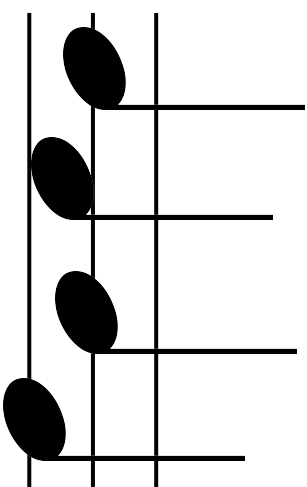

Instructions for Play:

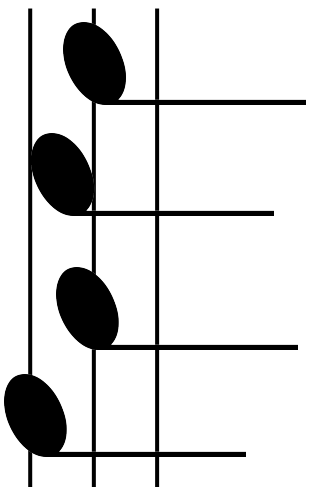

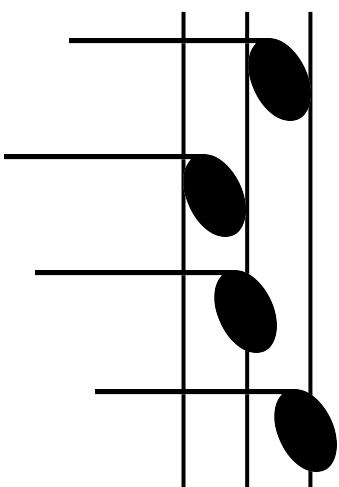

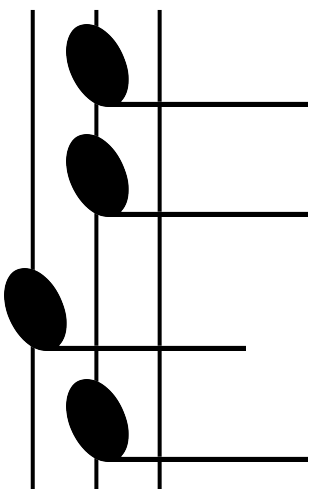

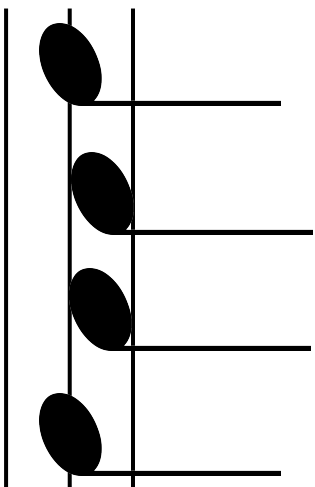

Teacher will draw one draw card from the draw pile. Turning to students, read together saying up/down a step/skip (or 2nd/3rd) as written on the card. Students look for the matching set of notes or short musical motive, on their bingo card and cover up if present (not all cards have all rhythms). First student to cover a row of 3 rhythms calls “bingo” and wins. Variations below:

- Ear Training Test: Play cards and let students listen, then search for the correct short musical motive on their pages. Show card after they search to make sure correct motive was found.
- Sight Reading Twist: Let students take turns drawing cards, then sight reading the short musical motive while other students continue searching for correct motive on their own pages. As they show the card, they may mark the correct motive on their own page. Then another student takes their turn drawing the next card.
